2. POLICY STATEMENT

The primary aim of a reward strategy is to attract, retain and motivate suitably skilled staff so that the organisation can perform at its best. One of the biggest challenges for Adra is to maximise productivity and efficiency within current resources. Pay policy is a matter of striking a, sometimes difficult balance between setting remuneration at appropriate levels to facilitate a sufficient supply of appropriately skilled individuals to fill the company's range of posts and ensuring that the financial burden on our tenants does not become greater than can be fully and objectively justified.

In this context it does need to be recognised that at the more senior levels in particular, remuneration levels need to enable the attraction of a suitably wide pool of talent and the retention of suitably skilled and qualified individuals once in post. It should be recognised that Adra will often be seeking to recruit in competition with other good public and private sector employers.

The availability of good quality employment on reasonable terms and conditions and fair rates of pay has a beneficial impact on the quality of life in the community as well as on the local economy. Adra also has a role in setting a benchmark example on pay and conditions to other employers in the area for the same reasons.

In designing, developing and reviewing a pay and remuneration policy Adra, will seek to balance these factors appropriately to maximise outcomes for the organisation and the community it serves, whilst managing costs appropriately and maintaining sufficient flexibility to meet future needs.

3. PURPOSE

The purpose of the policy is to provide transparency with regard to Adra's approach to setting the pay of its employees by identifying;

- the methods by which salaries of employees are determined;
- the level and elements of remuneration of the Executive Leadership Team;
- the level of remuneration of its lowest paid employees;

It also needs to be flexible when required to address a variety of changing circumstances and aligned to business objectives.

This Policy shall apply to Adra (Tai) Cyf (the Parent) and any of its subsidiaries (including Medra Cyf)

4. LEGISLATIVE FRAMEWORK

In determining the pay and remuneration of all of its employees, Adra will comply with all relevant employment legislation. This includes the:

- Equality Act 2010
- Part Time Employment (Prevention of Less Favourable Treatment) Regulations 2000

- Agency Workers Regulations 2010
- Transfer of Undertakings (Protection of Earnings) Regulations (where relevant).

This policy must be applied consistently to all job applicants or employees regardless of their age, disability, gender reassignment, marital or civil partnership status, race, pregnancy or maternity, religion or belief, sex, sexual orientation or caring responsibilities.

Adra will also carry out gender pay gap reporting every year.

5. PAY STRUCTURE

Adra negotiates pay awards locally with the recognised trade unions, who are:

- Unite
- Unison
- GMB

The approved Partnership Agreement states that there will be a collective agreement for the purposes of contracts of employment of employees of Adra and that agreed changes will be incorporated into the terms and conditions of employment of the relevant employees of Adra.

The following matters shall be the subject of negotiation:

- Pay awards
- Annual leave and other leave
- Overall salary structure
- Redundancy and redeployment
- Disciplinary and grievance procedures

Adra will utilise the practice of applying market supplements to take account of the external pay market in the attraction and retention of employees with particular experience, skills and capacity. Any application for market supplements will be objectively justified by reference to clear and transparent evidence of successive failure to recruit to a particular post or/and evidence of relevant market comparators, using appropriate data sources available from within and outside the local employment sector.

Adra can also apply temporary honoraria to individuals who, for various reasons, are acting up to a higher level of responsibility. See Adra's Acting Up and Honorarium Policy.
